

REMARKS

The office action of July 10, 2009, has been carefully considered.

It is noted that claims 1 and 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) over the patent to Robotham.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) over Robotham in view of the patent to Draskovitch et al.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) over Robotham in view of the patent to Yoshida.

In view of the Examiner's rejections of the claims, applicant has amended claim 1.

It is respectfully submitted that the claims presently on file differ essentially and in an unobvious, highly advantageous manner from the constructions disclosed in the references.

Turning now to the references and particularly to the patent to Robotham, it can be seen that this patent discloses a sealing assembly in which the ring 6 rests against the sleeve 5. There is no disclosure of a ring fastened to the neck bush, as in the presently claimed invention. Furthermore, the reference does not disclose a roller-burnished sealing surface, as in the presently claimed invention. The roller-burnished sealing surface provides a surface that is work-hardened while its roughness is minimized. Robotham does not disclose a roller-burnished sealing surface, as in the presently claimed invention.

In view of these considerations it is respectfully submitted that the rejection of claims 1 and 4-5 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) over the above-discussed reference is overcome and should be withdrawn.

The patents to Draskovich and Yoshida have also been considered. These references add nothing to the teachings of Robotham so as to teach the presently claimed invention as discussed above in connection with claim 1.

In view of these considerations it is respectfully submitted that the rejections of claims 2 and 3 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are overcome and should be withdrawn.

Reconsideration and allowance of the present application are
